Further Serious Charges Against Ex-President Greenhut.

M'NULTA APPEALS TO THE COURT.

The Receiver Asks the Court to Epjoin Greenhut and His Colleagues from Disposing of the Cond Issue Which It Is Charged They Secured lilegally.

CHICAGO, May 17 -- A bill filed in the United States circuit court last evening by Receiver McFuita, of the whisky trust. charges ex-President J. B. Greenhut and Nelson Morris with using the funds of the trust for outside speculation of a personal character, in which they met with a loss of $500,000. They are also charged with conspiring to secure the assent of the directors to the issuance of $1,000,000 bonds, which they so manipulated as to secure a profit to themselves of $100,000, besides securing the payment of their losses in speculation. Other defendants in the bill are W. M. Hobart, J. W. Freiberg, Louis Maddox and the Central Trust Company of New

All but the trust company are charged with duplicity in the bond transaction. The bill alleges that at a special meeting of the board of directors of the old trust in Chicago, on May 17, 1893, a resolution was adopted providing for the issuance of bonds at 8 per cent. interest, payable in twenty years, to the amount of $8,000,000. $2,500,000 of the bonds to be placed with the Central Trust company, of New York, as security for the payment of rebate

Several months preceding the date of meeting, owing to a vast speculation upon the Stock Exchange, to meet losses incurred Messes. Greenhue, Morris and Hobart, it is claimed in the bill, used a large amount of funds of the trust without the authority of the board of directors. Their losses amounted to about $500,000, and the receiver alleges that the financial condition of the trust was greatly impaired thereby. Greenhut and Morris, the bill alleges, then conspired to enrich themselves by purchasing a large amount of the bonds at a reduced price, and without the knowledge of the other members of the board of directors. This they managed through collusion with outside parties, and they and their confederates now have control of the bond issue, which it is charged they secured by illegal methods.

The receiver prays that the courts onjoin all of the defendants from disposing of the bonds to other parties; that they be required to answer, and that an accounting be had; that any amount of the bonds ascertained to be owing by the trust be paid for at the purchase price of fifty cents on the dollar, and thus the balance of the honds be canceled by the trust. The recoiver recites that he is desirous of winding up the affairs of the trust.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 .- A local paper prints the following: "Private letters received from Honolulu by the steamer Australia declare that a change of administration will soon occur there, and that the change is advocated by no less an important personage than ex-Minister Thurston. The information comes from a most reliable source, and cannot be questioned.

"At a recent conference between Mr. Thurston and President Dole and other members of his cabinet the former declared that the only hope of permanent peace on the island will be realized in placing Princess Kalulani in the position which the former monarchy proposed that she should some day have. Mr. Thurston is reported to have advocated this step so strongly that President Dole and his cabinet became alarmed, and have since given the matter many hours of consideration.

"Passengers on the Australia have confided the fact that the republic is on its last legs. Various big organizations are breaking away from President Dole, and the opposing forces, which were somewhat subducd after the recent uprising by the show of arms made by the government, are now becoming more bold.

"An alarm is liable to be sounded any night, remarked one passenger, and if it is you can expect to bear of the downfall of the republic. There is no escape for it. Minister Thurston's uneasiness has become so apparent to the opposing forces that the latter have gained more courage. The fact that Mr. Thurston favors a change is no longer a secret, and when we left Honolulu it was common talk that be was then planning to carry out to a suc-cessful end the conversion of the republic back to a monarchy."

A DEFENSE OF STRIKERS

Governor McCorkle's Tribute to West Virginia Miners.

STRIKERS PERFECTLY ORDERLY.

Has There Been Auy Evidence of Intended Lawlessness-Alarming Reports Utterly Misleading.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 17.-Following on the heels of the interview with Gover-nor () Ferrall, in which that gentleman decided that only the presence of Virginia roops at Pocabontas prevented bloodshed w keeping the West Virginia miners in beek, the following telegram from Govrnor McCorkle, of this state, is not only important, but is a contribution to the interesting state of affairs that has arisen etween the governors of the two states growing our of the refusal of the governor f West Virginia to grant the request of he governor of Virginia to allow Virdnia troops to cross the border. The dispatch is signed by Governor McCorkle, ud is as follows:

"In Wednesday's dispatches to the press rom Pocahontas you say: 'West Virginia niners are closely watched, as firing on he picket lines has increased. This statement does the West Virginia miners gross injustice, not a shot having been fired by any West Virginia miner nor by any miner, and not a breach of the peace has coursed. Nothing has been done by any West Virginia workingman to warrant the suspicion that they intend to anything nore than peacefully strike. The reports were sent out by interested parties for a ourpose and the motive is well known. All the newspaper reports from that section have been utterly reisleading, and highly colored, intended for the purpose of inluencing public opinion. The four or five shots fired one day were not fired by any miner, and are now known to have been erranged for by other parties.

"It is absolute and atter nonsense to attempt to dignify the proceedings in that suction by any suspicions of damage to the peace of the state. I am thoroughly amiliar with the shoutien, and, without discussing the cause of the strike, will say in my knowledge no strike in this country has been over conducted in so peace-able and law abiding manner, and the continued imputation that West Virginia miners are brenking the peace and invading other states with riotous intentions is disgusting to all who know the true sit-

"When the first highly colored reports ome to this office every arrangement was made by me to vigorously preserve the peace of this state and prevent any lawessness. I would do so at every hazard. My views on this point are well known. But the attempt to make the world believe that our law abilliog people are armed rioters, and that a peaceful strike is a tur-halent insurrection, breaking the peace of OUR OWN STATE HE WELL HE OTHERS, IS ITH with too much injury to our material interests to be longer borne in silence.

This sectionent is confirmed by the sheriffs of the conoties, by my own representatives on the ground and by the superintendent of the callroad. The latter for a week has wired me daily saying that everything is quiet in that section, and such has been the continued direction of all correct information from that field. I make this statement in order that simple justice may be done our people."

Still No Disorder at Pocahontas.

KETSTONE, W. Va., May 17.-Pocahontas is quiet today. Many civizens from surrounding villages have come to look upon the signation from a business standpoint, but find little key to the situation. It is difficult to obtain any accurate information, and the new miners are being closely watched. Some apprehension was felt among the military of an outbreak last evening, and they were kept near their quarters. The old miners have been anxious to know how the new miners were doing, but the closest watch has been kept upon the miners and no one admitted in coul companies' grounds. Some of the West Virginia operators who are identified with the Nortolic and Western railroad, are here, and is is believed that an effort will be made to start up the mines in West Virginia by June 1.

More Evidence Against Durant.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.-The police are said to have found new witnesses who will pestify against Theodore Durant at his forthcoming trial in the superior court. He escorted her thicker, left the room a few minutes and returned entirely nucle. The young weman made her escape with difficulty. Simliar conduct would explain the absence of blood stains on Durant's clothing after Minnie Williams was murdered.

PITTSBURG, May 17.-A resolution ordering a general suspension of work in the mines in the Pittsburg district was adopted at the miners' convention here festerday. It was also directed to establish camps at all the pits working below the sixty-nine cent rate. The delegates left for their homes last evening to ascertain the sentiment among the miners and will report to the convention today. There was a meeting of operators and miners after the convention adjourned, but both sides were firm and nothing was accomplished. The operators say they will now bring new men into their mines. If they do there will likely be serious trouble.

More Frost in Wiscensin.

MILWAUKEE, May 17.—Frost was quite general throughout the state again Wednesday night, and garden truck and fruit crops are being steadily wiped out in the northern part of the state. Snow that fell early in the week still remains on the ground. Nearly everything on top of the ground has been frozen solid. Wheat and oats will suffer the least, but all other crops will have to be replanted.

WHERETRAMPSRULE

COLONY OF THEM TERRORIZES MOR-RISTOWN, N. J.

Their Chief a Despondent Tailor—He Occupies an Eight by Twelve Palace and Works Them In Organized Squads-The Residents In Constant Fear.

Residents of Morris county, N. J., are terrorized by a regiment of tramps, who Lave been preying upon them for a month past, and who threaten to remain in the vicinity until next winter. Sheriff Edmund A. Backer has been appealed to to drive the tramps out of the county, but thus far he has done nothing, and the people are afraid to raise their hands against the vagabonds, lest they retaliate by burning their houses and barns or commit crimes of even worse character.

There have lately been a few additions to the company, so that there are now close to 90 tramps at large in the neighborhood.

The tramps have a leader named Callahan, who used to be a respectable tailor in Morristown. He is about 55 years old and resembles Napoleon III. He has a son, who is a law student, and two daughters, who are employed in Newark as typewriters. He lost his business and in a fit of desperation took to the road. He was elected leader of his fellow tramps because of his experience and intimate knowledge of the roads and inhabitants of the county. He knows them all, and every morning the gang meets at his hut and receives or-

All do not forage on the same day. It is not necessary for more than a third of their number to go out at once. They take turns, so that all will have done their shares of "work" every three days.

Only a few of the tramps are accommodated at night in Callahan's hut. It is a small affair, about 12 feet by 8, and not much more than 6 feet high.

The hut is mainly constructed of stolen lumber and is fitted up with a few shelves, which serve as seats by day and bunks by night. Mats and pieces of carpet relieve them somewhat of their hardness.

Callahan has his regular lodgers, who pay him extra for the privilege of sleeping in his foul den. The rest have had to find sleeping quarters elsewhere. They accordingly have appropriated to their use several barns, which they preempted as if they had natural and legal claims to them, and the owners do not dare to object. There is not a house within ten miles around that they do not visit regularly. Four or five will sometimes call in one day at a single house and beg for victuals or money, or both. They are quite dainty in their tastes, and if food of inferior quality is offered them they will reject it, and if they are refused alms they will threaten to use force. They often ask for clothing, but they are so independent that they will accept only garments that are in good condition. One fellow told a Morristown woman who offered him her husband's castoff suit that he couldn't take it because it was too much worn. "Beggars," he said, "must be well dressed and make a good appearance they won't succeed. If your husband hasn't get a better suit than that, let him come with me to camp, and I'll get him one that will look respectable."

The tramps have already made friends of all the dogs in the vicinity of the camp. The dogs visit them and are well fed, and consequently when the tramps call at the houses the dogs do not molest them.

The tramps make no secret of their purpose. They say they intend to remain in their camp all summer, and they expect to have a good time if they are not driven out. - New York Times.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

Senate Passes the Bill Making Marriage License Records Public.

HARRISBURG, May 17 —The house passed on second reading yesterday, without much opposition, the congressional, senstorial and legislative apportionment bills as reported from committee. They will come no next Tuesday for third reading and final passage. The house congressional and senatorial apportionment is different from the senate bills, and the resuit will be that all the measures on this subject will go to a conference committee, assuming that they pass both houses. The judicial apportionment passed the house six weeks ago, and is now hung up in the senate committee.

The bill creating a commission to ascertain the best methods of utdizing convict labor in the institutions of Penusylvania so as not to interfere with legis.ative industries passed the house finally.

The senare resolution flxing the time of final adjournment for Thursday, June 6, was referred to the rules committee when it reached the house. The resolution will be "hung up" in the committee until the senate disposes of the 205 house bills on its calendar for flual passage.

The apportionment of bills out of the way, the house proceeded to the considera-tion on third reading and final passage of forty-eight bills reported last Thursday from the appropriations committee, most of which went through.

A communication was received from the governor giving notice of his approval of to- Farr compulsory education bill.

The senate continued the nominations sent in yesterday except that of Isaac J. Wister, of Philadelphia, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Richard Vaux, which was laid over at the request of Mr. Penrose. The bid to, abolish the Philadeiphia public building commission was defeated by a vote of 16 to 11, not a constitutional majority. The adverse vote was reconsidered, and the bill is expected to pass next week.

The joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution abolishing February elections passed the senate finally, but as the house has voted down a similar bill it cannot again be considered in that body under old rules. The senate also passed finally the bill requiring clerks of orphans' courts to keep marriage license dockets open to the inspection of the

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1895.

A few days ago there was a sharp rise in the price of wheat, based, it was said, upon frost damages. Yesterday there was another lift in the price. This time insects are, it is said, eating the plant up. One would naturally jump at the conclusion that a frost severe enough to kill vegetation would have put an end to the bugs,-for a time at least.

Among the important measures passed by the Assembly in the closing hours of the session was Senator Parsons' bill requiring a'l rallroads, over 100 miles in length, to issue one-thousand mile ticket books for $20. The bill had been in the hands of the Railroads Committee since early in the session, and the railroad lobbylsts had boasted that they had killed it, but during the absence of Chairman Nixon, of the Railroads Committee, from the Assembly chamber, the bill was taken from his committee and put on its final passage. No member had nerve enough to go on public record against a measure so plainly in the interest of the public, and it was passed unanimously.

The recent sale by J. Pierpont Mor gan of $4,500,000 of treasury stock of the New York Central to foreign banking houses, which was announced ; yesterday, is of far reaching importance and significance. It means that faith of European investors in our surrency system has been re stored and that they no longer fear the debasement of our currency by silver purchase or free coinage of silver. Faith in American currency was lost under a Republican admiristration, as the result of a law drafted by a Republican Senator and passed by a Republican Congress. Faith in American currency has been restored by the repeal of the silver purchase act by a Democratic Congress and by the unflinching stand taken by a Democratic adminstration in favor of honest money.

Carries His Arm in a Sling.

Mr George DeVoe, a machinet of this city, who has been working in Hartford, for some time, is at home and carries his left arm in a sling. On Saturday last he slipped and fell with his arm against a rapidly revolving emery wheel. Before he could recover himself the wheel had burned and ground a hole in the muscles of the forearm, making a painful wound that will lay him off duty for some time.

A Boy Stabbed by His Companion.

Silas Day, aged fifteen years, and Walter Wright, aged thirteen, employed in the paper mill at Hamburg, N. J., began scuffling in the mill, Monday afternoon and, losing their tempers, were soon in a rough and tumble fight. The older boy was getting the best of it when Wright seized a paper knife, with a blade six inches long, and made a lunge at his antagonist. The blade passed entirely through Day's leg, making a very ugly wound.

A File Cutter Who Left Middletown to Work in Anderson, Ind Extent of His Injuries Not Yet Known-In the Hospital at Marion.

At a late hour yesterday afternoon, the Angua received a dispatch from Springfield, Ohic, announcing that Edward Reilly, of this city, had been tatally assaulted at Marion, O, Wednesday night. He had been enticed from the depot and assaulted and robbed and had become incane. There was no time then to ascertain who Edward Reilly was but after the paper went to press it was learned that he is a file cutter by trade, who resided with his wife and three children at No. 11 School street.

Ar porter called at the house, this morning. Mrs. Reilly had read the dispatch in the ARGUS and this was the first intimation she received of the mishap to her husband. Naturally the shock was a severe one, but the information was so indefinite that she at once telegraphed to her husband's brother, Mr. Andrew Reilly, assistant paymaster of the O. and W. in New York, and the latter made inquiries by telegraph, but the only information he received during the night was that Mr. Reilly had been taken to the horpital at Marion. Mr. Reilly is a fire maker by trade.

He is thirty-two years oli and for nineteen years has been employed in the Eagle File Works. Last Monday a man named Finnegan, with whom Mr. Beilly was well acquainted, came to town and called upon him Mr. Finnegan is the proprietor of a file shop at Anderson, Ind. He tormerly ran a shop at Sing Sing, and it was while he was there Mr. Reiliey made his acquaintance. He wanted Mr. Reilly to go to Anderson to work for him. Finally Mr. Reilly consented against the wishes of his family and the proprietors and foremen of the Eagle File Works. But he was so well liked that Mr. Madden told him that if his Indiana job did not please him as he expected it would his old place was open to him at any time.

Mr. Finnegan had promised to accompany Mr. Reilly, but at a late hour changed his mind and went to New York, Mr. Reilly going west on Erie train 3, Monday night, and that was the last his wife heard of him, until she read the unwelcome news in yest-rday's Argus, of the assault upon him.

Mr. Reilly has many friends in this city, who will be glad if it should van County Court, last fall, by Mc prove that the report of the assault and its results was exaggerated.

Mr. Reilly has four brothers and three sisters, all of whom, except Andrew, above mentioned, reside in

Mrs. Reilly has received several telegrams, to-day, from the physician in charge of the hospital, one of which says Mr. Reilly is badly hurt about the head, but as he is still unable to give any explanation the full extent of his it jury is not known.

The last dispatch received, this at ternoon, was in reply to one asking if he would be able to come if sent ten by an Orange county man, for for. It stated that he "is not yet hlacs.

> Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Reilly, who is not only suffering from the shock of the terrible news thus far received, but also the agonies of suspense. She is bearing up bravely, however, and hoping for good news

OBITUARY.

Mrs, Harriet Reed Hill.

Mrs. Harriet Reed Hill, widow of the late B. F. Hill, died at 1 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, at her home in Otisvide, in her! fifty fourth year. She was sick about four weeks with an intestinal obstruction and Mondey afternoon an operation was pe: formed upon her as the only chance of saving her life. She rallied well from the operation, but the disease had made too much progress and she died, as above stated. Mrs. Hill was a daughter of the late Jonah H. and Roxanna Reed. She married Benjamin F. Hill, who was serving his second term as School Commissioner, when he died in 1870. She resided in Otteville ever since her marriage and was universally esteemed. She was deputy postmaster at the time of her death, having held the office for some time.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD AND THE STATE HOSPITAL.

The Delays and Prospects of Longer Delays by the Proposed Route, Suggest the Adoption of a New Route-The Matter Under Consideration.

The delay in getting the electric road through to the State Hospital by the route contemplated-through Co nella street, has caused the Traction Company and others interested in completing the Asylum line, to look about for a new route.

The original route was through Lake avenue to Summit avenue, thence over a bridge above the Erie tracks to Monhagen avenue and to the Hospital grounds.

It was later decided to go through West Main street to Bonnell, thence to a point opposite Cornelia street, and to cross the Erie by an overhead bridge at that point. The track was laid to near Bonnell street, the Williamson house was purchased and removed to open the street, but at that point operations ceased. It was expected that the Erie Railway Co. would contribute largely towards the construction of the bridge, but as the road is in the hands of receivers it does not seem probable that anything will be done by the company for a long time to come, and the prospects for getting to the Hospital by this route, this summer, are not at ail promising.

It seems almost a necessity to extend the road to the Hospital at once and a meeting of a number of gentlemen to discussthe matter was held last evening.

The route proposed at this meeting was through Bonnell street, to Stanton, thence to Lake avenue, and to Summit avenue or a point near it on private lands ; and over an overhead bridge to the hospital grounds. There are parties interested in this route who will contribute enough to put the road through, and if this line is adopted cars will be running to the hospital at no distant day. The Traction Company and the general public are interested in Letting the road through at once. The route is a matter of secondary importance, so long as the c rs get

Waller-Cockrell, Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the spacious home of Mrs. H. Read, in Otisville, at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, May 11th, when Mr. Harry Waller, of New York city, and Miss Minnie Cockrill, of Otisville, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Chadwick, pastor of the M. E.

The couple entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and preceded by the bridesmaid and bridegroom, Miss Mamie Cockrill a sister of the bride, and Mr. Wm. Northrup. The bride was attired in a very pretty traveling suit of grey, trimmed with green silk and ribbons. She wore orange blossoms and both bride and bridesmaid carried bouquets of white

TWO ELOPEMENTS FROM WARWICK One Young Couple Married in New York and the Other at Florida, Warwick had, last week, two marriages which were a great surprise to the friends of the contracting parties.

Albert Wisner, Jr, and Beatrice Louise Miller were married Thursday by Dr. Houghton, in the "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York city. The first known of the marriage was when they re urned to Warwick, Saturday evening.

Friday afternoon, Charles Decker, one of the village barbers, took Mary, daughter of Thomas Mabee, for a ride. They went to Florida and were married by Rev. Dr. Bonner and then went to Port Jervis for a wedding trip, returning to Warwick, Monday evening.

In good old fashioned rural village style, both couples were given noisy serenades as soon as the boys about town learned of the weddings.

FIRE AT THE SAW FACTORY.

Blaze in the Stiffening Room-But Little Damage Done.

About 10:30 o'clock, last night Special Night Watchman Barrett, of the saw factory, discovered fire in the stiffening room of the establiament, which is located in a bick building on Railroad avenue. An alarm was rung in from box 17, and the watchman soon had a stream on the flames, through the factory's fire hose, which is always in readiness for such emergencies. The firemen arrived promptly and the fire was extinguished in short order.

The fire was caused by the overheating of a vat of oil, which is used in the process of stiffening saws. A similar fire occurred in the same building, several years ago, and when it was rebuilt it was made practically fire proof, and, therefore, very little damage was done, beyond the loss of the cil and several dozen saw blades.

DEAD FISH AT THE RESERVOIRS.

Hany Barrelstul Gathered Up and Bur-

Superintendent Van Duzer has a force of men at work gathering up and removing the dead fish that line the shores of Highland and Monhagen Lake. Some idea of the number of fish that have perished may be gained from the fact that Wednesday afternoon, three barrels were gathered at Highland Lake, and the men did not go one-tenth of the distance around the lake. The dead fish are buried below the dams. At Highland Lake the dead fish are mostly shiners, while at Monhagen Lake they are almost without exception small cat fieb.

Brutally Assaulted in fils Rome,

William Purvis, of Livingston Manor, just after entering his house about 11 o'clock, Sanday night, was set upon and terribly beaten about the face and head by some unknown person. Part of his beard was torn out and several of his teeth were knocked out. He had just received his pension check and robbery is thought to have been the motive. Fortunately, however, he had no money, having left the check at a business place to be cashed.

Stealing from the 0. and W, at Nor-

Three Norwich youths, who have been stealing brass and different articles used in car and locomotive construction from the O. and W. road house and car shop in that village, were arrested, Wednesday. Railroad officials estimate that at least $350 worth of property has been stolen in three months. One of the accused youngsters has confessed and implicated the others.

The Traction Company received another anonymous communication from an injured husband, who complains that a certain conductor, who is named, is paying too much attention to the writer's wife, and furthermore is "carrying her free" on his car, and that if the company don't put a stop to it he'll see about it.

PRESCIENCE.

The new moon bung in the sky, The sun was low in the west. And my betrothed and I In the churchyard paused to rest,
Happy maid and lover,
Dreaming the old dream over.

The light winds wandered by, And robins chirped from the nest.

And, lo, in the meadow sweet Was the grave of a little child, With a crumbling stone at the feet And the ivy running wild, Tangled ivy and clover Folding it over and over. Close to my sweetheart's firet Was the little mound up piled.

Stricken with nameless fears She shrank and clung to me And her eyes were filled with tears For a sorrow I did not s e. Lightly the winds were blowing, Softly her tears were flowing. Tears for the unknown year

And a sorrow that was to be.

A FRESH PROFESSOR

I was an undergraduate and he was a don of Exham college, Oxford. We both bore the same name — Unwin-Jones. Why Dame Fate should have gifted two such antitheses with similar names, why she should have brought us to one and the same college is inscrutable. I do not upbraid. I thank her from the bottom of my heart. I forget the frayed shirts, "dickeys" and antediluvian collars of Don Jones that the laundress fathered on me. I do not regret my wines, but not the bills therefor, that went to his cellar instead of to my humble cupboard. I forgive the torn envelopes in ladies' hands marked "not for Professor Jones" -everything, and why?

It was a sunny afternoon in the merry month of May as I returned at 5 o'clock, in flannels and a blazer, from an hour's fagging at the cricket nets, and tripped up the stairs of my "digs," that over-looked the dear old college gardens, whistling "Oh. Phyllis Mine!" I burst open the door, and — "Are visions about?" came the lightning thought, as I saw, seated in the armchair by my window, gazing out on the glories of the horse chestnuts opposite, one of the-no! the (vide "subsequent events")-most charming little girls I have ever seen! By the side of the armchair was a lecture note book, and what I knew only too well to be Herr Crummer's "Latin Prose." She rose, bowed deferentially, and somewhat nervously began: "Oh, Professor Jones, I am so sorry I am late! Mr. Boothby of Gamaliel said he hadn't time to look over my prose, and asked me to bring it to you at 4:45, and said, as you sometimes took his work, you would correct it for me. "

I saw it all, or rather I saw nothing but her-slim, petite, with stray strands of nut brown hair peeping from beneath a dainty straw hat trimmed with marguerites. The porter had directed her to my rooms instead of to those of the professor (I gave him a sovereign at the end of term). One more to the long list of mistaken identifies, but worth them all. Should I undeceive her? And I thought of the dryasdust Jones. He was the sea mouster, I was Persens, and she was-Andromeda. "A thousand times no," said my heart. I shall be a professor for 30 minutes! With all of him I could muster, and re-enforced by my gold rimmed pince nez-

"Ah!-er-let me see, what-or-is your name?"

"Ethel Mayner," said Ethel-red, for the rosy hue had mounted to her cheek, as it did to Virgil's Venus, "I'm-I'm one of Mr. Boothby's 'extension' pupuls.

"Of course," I said and looked professorially at a card I picked up, "here's your name."

It was a card of the XL's summer term fixtures. Inwardly I vowed it would be more "extension" than "lecture." But did she think I was a professor? Could she not see my chin, innocent of a razor—the galaxy of London actresses on my mantelpace, the hunting sketches, my but on the table, the siphons cheek by jowl with McTavish's 'best?'' Did professors play banjos and whistle "Oh, Phyllis Mine," as they bounded up to unravel the mysteries of "Oratio Obliqua" with fair pupils? I stifled surmise and lived only in the present and the sunshme of-Ethel. She resumed her seat, and I rang the bell. Up came the landlady,

"Bring up tea for two, Mrs. Grabbs," I said, "and send out for the best cake Boffins have in the show—I—er—mean the premises "

"Oh, professer," she interposed. 'please don't trouble about tea for me. "Madam," I repensed, "we cannot discuss the position of Casar in winter quarters or that plebean bricklayer Balbus without some light refreshment. Come, let us commence Bring your than up to the table." (Oh, how britial of me! And I would have curried it miles for her days at let a let a

[EART DISEASE, like many other allments when they have taken hold of the system, never gets better of its own accord, but Constantly grows worse. There are thousands who know they have a defective heart, but will not admit the fact. They don't want their friends to worry, and Don't know what to take for it, as they have been told time and again that heart disease was incurable. Such was the case of Mr. Silas Farley of Dyesville, Ohio who writes June 19, 1894, as follows:

"I had heart disease for 23 years, my heart hurting me almost continually. The first is years I doctored all the time, trying several physicians and remedies, until my last doctor told me it was only a question of time as I could not be cured. I gradually grew worse, very weak, and completely discouraged, until I lived, propped half up in bed, because I couldn't lie down nor sit up. Thinking my time had come I told my family what I wanted done when I was gone. But on the first day of March on the recommendation of Mrs. Fannie Jones, of Anderson, Ind., I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart and wonderful to tell, in ten days I was working at light work and on March 19 commenced framing a barn, which is heavy work, and I hav'nt lost a day since. I am 56 years old, 6 ft. 4% inches and weigh 250lbs. I believe I am fully cured, and I am now only anxious that everyone shall know of your wonderful remedies." Dyesville, Ohio.

Then Mrs. Grabbs came in with the tea

"Ethel, a-er-Miss Mayner, I beg your pardon! Do let me pour you out a cup of tea!"

The emphasis was more undergradu atey than professorial, the work of impulse cather than discretion, but pru dence was out when beauty was in.

"Oh, thank you," she smiled. "You are a dear good old man!" (I had just turned 18. I good: A hypocrite in a fool's paradise!) "But we don't seem to be getting on very quickly?" she que ried. (Oh, when were prose and poetry so closely ali.ed?) "Crops, are they feminine or masculine?" she asked.

"Ahem-er-it depends on the kind, vou know!' I replied.

"Seges, is that the correct word?" And I, smitten by love and forgetful of my Latin dictionary, told her it meant a soldier!

She sipped her tea and tried to sup press a laugh. It was the "soldier" that did it, and midst her emotion a little red rosebud fell from her breast on to Herr Crammer's "Latin Prose." "You funny man!" she rippled. It would have been crueky from any one else in the world, but from Ethel it was sweetness and Joy. I drew my chair closer to hers. My left hand strayed toward that cricket bat. A magnetic thrill was generating I looked and thought only of her dream face, her eyes, where the merry twinkle at the "soldier" crop per was just dying away, and I was about to-when a knock came at the door, then Mrs. Grabbs, and her words fell on my ears like molten lead:

"If you please, sir, the porter says as Professor Jones says, as the young lady what 'e was expecting at 5 o'clock 'asu't arrove, he wants you at once with 'Steps For Eeginness.'

I burst from the room, fled like a hunted slave over to the common room and fell into an arnichair. My brain was in a mad whirl, love and ignomicy striving with deception and remorse. Ethel! Love! She knew all - that I was a "Steps For Beginners" man—Ethel. who was at page 210, and "the rotation of grops!

When I went back to my rooms at 6:30, duzed and wracked with love, the rosebud was still on Crammer's "Prese." as it fell, and a note-a note in a dainty little hand—Ethel's!

Your tea and cake were excellent. How I wish I could say the same of your prose! I left the bud for you, if you care for it, and I stole your "list of pupils"—cricket fixtures. We may never meet again, professor. Yours,

But we did, and Mrs. Unwin-Jones always laughs at "Steps For Beginners" when she dusts it.—Sheich.

A New Typewriter.

Patent rights have just been granted to a young inventor in St. Paul for improvements on the typewriting machine which will greatly increase its speed. The improvements consist of the introduction of the stenographic principle, making the machine capable of printing whole words at single strokes of the keys. Many of the small words and word endings which (ae most frequently used are represented in the new machine by separate keys of their own, and by a clever device the spacing is made to correspond automatically with the length of the wilds thus set apart. Another time saying devices to the two space lever, which enables the operator to form the space between the words with the same stroke, which makes the last letter of a word. An automatic spacer, used to print tables of figures and similar work, is also added to perfect the equipment of the new typewriter. The inventor claims that the speed to be attained by the u e of these devices is much greater than has yet been secured Next he proposes to introduce electricity as the motive power in the manipulation of all the riechanical parts, leaving it necessary for the operator only to press lightly on the keys to print whole words with great rapidity.-New York

A Snake the Negro Fears,

Mr. Powe, in speaking of snakes, said that the "coachwhip snake" was the terror of the negroes. There was an old superstition among them that the coachwhip would whip a man to death and then put the tip of its tail into the nostrils of the victim to see if he was dead. An old negro man went out to catch the horses of the party, which were turned into pasture, while they were out fishing and hunting, and on the way began to think about snakes. The old man had a bridle on his arm, and by some means one of the long leather reins had got loose and was dragging behind him. His imagination had worked him up so that the sweat was standing out on his black skin. He chanced to look back and catch a glimpse of the rein. He let a blood curdling yell and ran. He looked back and on came the rein, which he took for a coachwhip snake after him to beat him to death. The negro actually ran until he fell exhausted, and then fearing the superstitious act of having the tip of the snake's tail run up his nose he clapped his hands over his face and prepared for the whipping .- St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

It is Injurious To Stop Suddeniy

And dou't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will noticy you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

When notified to do the work, he contracted for the walk, but arranged with the Aldermen from the Fourth Ward, that he need not flag until after he built his house, which he was about to do, but the day after the expiration of sixty days, the city put down the flegging, while some other properties on the street have not yet been flagged. UNIVERSALIST SERVICE.

Very Interesting and Instructive Sermon, Last Night, by Rev. V. E. Tom-

Rev. Vincent E. Tomlinson, of Hudson, preached at the Assembly Rooms, last night, on "Some of the Advantages Enjoyed by the Universalist Church."

. After speaking of the disadvantage of being misu deretood and spoken against by those who did not take pairs to inform themselves what the Universalist Church stood for, he named as advantages: First, a creed of which they were not ashamed; reasonable and representative of nineteenth century Christianity. This he summarized as a faith in the fatherhood of God, in the brothe hood of mar, in the incarnation of the love of God in our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, and in the complete triumph in His name of good over evil.

He said the Universalist Church. through all its history, has stood for the redemption of all mankind through Christ, and it is the only church that fearlessly proclaims this truth, to-day.

Another advantage was on the score of liberty Freedom is the birthright of the Universalist Church. It welcomes research. It is ready for verified facts from whatever field, knowing that the truth and that alone makes men free. Great liberty is enjuyed, too, on the score of administration. Pastors are not changed by the almanac. Like our American Government, the administration of the church is representativeevery member has a volce.

The last advantage named was that the Universalist Jourch had escaped the weakness of some of the liberal bodies by putting its liberty to use, and embodying it in an organization for advancing its fruth.
